Red Registration Case Back to District Court

WASHINGTON (AP)—A federal appeals court overturned today the conviction of the Communist party for failure to register as an agent of the Soviet Union.

The basic ruling of the Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia was that to support the verdict of conviction the government would have to prove that a volunteer was available to register for the party under the 1950 Subversive Activities Control Act.

Nine Miners Die In Utah Explosion

Second Major Mine Disaster In State In '63

HELPER, Utah (AP)—Nine coal miners were killed and another injured Monday in an explosion in what was described as a "model mine in the West."

The blast occurred at the face, or end, of one of two shafts which branch out from the end of a 2,800-foot tunnel into the side of a mountain near this central Utah community.

"They never knew what hit them," said James Diamanti, mine co-owner. "They fell right where they were working. They must have hit a pocket of gas."

State Industrial Commission officials at the scene theorized the blast was caused by either coal dust or methane gas. It was the second major mine disaster in Utah this year. Eighteen men were killed Aug. 27 in a potash mine explosion at Moab, about 100 miles south of Helper.

Jesus Nunez, 45, was near the entrance to the west shaft, about 2,000 feet from the explosion.

The blast hurled him 200 feet, broke his arm and cut him badly.

"I know I was lucky," he said.

Nine men were working in the east shaft and said they didn't hear the explosion.

"We've been told that the mine was a model mine in the west," Diamanti said. "Every safety precaution was taken. There hasn't been a trace of gas in the area for many, many months. I just can't explain it."

Diamanti said the nine victims were drilling at the face of the west shaft and theorized a drill bit may have exposed and ignited a pocket of methane.

Explosives were not being used.

Atomic Might Told NATO By Secretary

Atomic Might Told NATO By Secretary

PARIS (AP)—Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara said today the awesome might of the growing U.S. atomic arsenal could destroy Russian society if the West ever was subjected to a nuclear surprise attack.

He also said the North Atlantic Alliance is strong enough to fight a conventional war with the Soviet Union without plunging the world immediately into a nuclear conflict.

McNamara told the ministerial meeting of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization that new appraisals of Eastern and Western military strength showed that the West is able to take care of itself in any war, little or big.

McNamara challenged the conventional picture of a world in which the West was so hopelessly outnumbered and outgunned by hordes of Communists that Western military leaders would have to fall back at once on nuclear weapons in case of attack.

In his speech, relayed to correspondents by briefing officers, McNamara put the American case for a multitude of possible Western responses to Communists, ranging all the way from small local engagements to nuclear war.

McNamara stressed that this was not the moment for the Atlantic Alliance to slacken its efforts to build up conventional military strength.

Throughout the trial in December last year the principal defense contention was that no such person could come forward because doing so would incriminate him as an individual under other terms of the act.

The party had drawn the maximum penalty of $120,000 fine — $10,000 on each of 11 counts, each count covering one day's failure to register, and another $10,000 on a 12th count alleging failure to provide information about Communist party officers, members and finances.

In rejecting the Communist defense contention that registration was impossible because the registrant would be incriminating himself, Judge Alexander Holtzoff of the U.S. District Court here had ruled that the Fifth Amendment protection against self-incrimination can be claimed only by an individual and not by an organization such as the Communist party of the United States.

The Appeals Court sent the case back to the District Court for either a new trial if the government requests it, or a directed verdict of acquittal.

The three-judge decision said legal precedent indicates "that an organization can always find someone willing, even if not legally bound, to act for it."

"But," the court added, "we think no such presumption can fairly be applied to the Communist party. Since mere association with the party incriminates, we cannot assume without proof that anyone is willing to submit data the possession of which applies an 'intimate knowledge of (the party's) workings.' Whether or not such a volunteer was available is a question of fact which requires proof."

$700 Million In Federal Work by State

$700 Million In Federal Work by State

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Missouri received nearly $700 million in government military equipment and supply contracts during the 1963 fiscal year, an increase of more than $44 million over 1962, the United States Army reported today.

While Missouri's government military contracts increased, the four other states in the Army's midwest area showed losses.

Illinois, Missouri's nearest competitor among neighboring states, received $486,067,000 in military prime contracts during the same period. This represented a drop of $44,941,000 over 1962.

Missouri's allotment of $686,111,000 accounted for 2.7 per cent of the national military expenditure, representing a one-half per cent gain over the previous year.

No localized breakdown of the figures was available, but an Army spokesman said it was "highly likely that the St. Louis metropolitan area netted a lion's share."

400,000 May Visit East

Open Berlin Wall For Yule Season

BERLIN (AP)—West Berlin and East German authorities have signed an agreement opening the wall for West Berliners to visit relatives in East Berlin over the Christmas season. Western officials announced today.

Western officials said details of the agreement would be announced later today.

The agreement was reached today after six days of tough, touch-and-go negotiations.

It opens the Red wall to West Berliners who have relatives in the East for the first time since the wall was built more than two years ago to stop the escape of refugees.

Western officials estimated that about 400,000 West Berliners will be eligible to cross into the Soviet sector.

The agreement was signed by Horst Korber, an official of the West Berlin city government, and Erich Wendt, East German deputy cultural affairs minister.

Issuance of permits will begin Wednesday at 12 p.m. in West Berlin with officials of the East German post office handling the applications.

The East Germans had wanted West Berlin Mayor Willy Brandt to sign the agreement, but he refused, fearing this might imply Western recognition of the East German regime.

The Communists then said Korber could sign but his signature would have to show specifically that he was signing for the West Berlin city government. Again, the West Berliners refused.

However, Korber eventually signed the agreement and there was no immediate explanation. The signing appeared to mean the Berlin and Communist negotiators had found a formula to break the deadlock which arose Friday over how to sign the document.

Opinion here was divided as to what political implications this agreement might have.

Some officials say it is nothing but a technical agreement without political overtones. Others fear it gives the East ammunition for their campaign to isolate West Berlin from the Western camp and turn it into a so-called neutral, demilitarized city.

West Germans, as distinguished from West Berliners, have always been able to cross into East Berlin.

Ruby Release By Christmas Being Sought

Ruby Release By Christmas Being Sought

DALLAS (AP)—Jack Ruby's lawyers are trying to get the man who killed the accused assassin of President Kennedy out of jail before Christmas. The state insists he should be kept behind bars.

Dist. Judge Joe Brown ordered a Dec. 23 hearing on a defense request Monday for release of Ruby under bond. His trial on a charge of murder is set for Feb. 3 before the same jurist.

During this legal activity at the county courthouse, heavier-than-normal traffic continued outside the building past the point where a hidden rifleman ambushed the President Nov. 22. It was two days later that Ruby shot Lee Harvey Oswald, the accused assassin, in the City Hall basement.

A flag flies at half staff over a grassy parkway beside this spot in the edge of the business district. Fresh flowers appear there daily. Dozens of wreaths hang from a fence erected to support them.

Tom Howard of Dallas, one of the lawyers representing Ruby, applied for a writ of habeas corpus in the move to free the prisoner.

Asks Cold War End

Johnson Bid To The UN

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — President Johnson today called for an end of the cold war for all time and offered to join in a worldwide crusade to conquer hunger, disease and ignorance.

He got a quick pat on the back from Soviet Delegate Nikolai T. Fedorenko, who met him after the speech was delivered in the great blue and gold hall of the U.N. General Assembly.

The Soviet diplomat expressed satisfaction with the speech and the two exchanged hopes that the United States and the Soviet Union can work together toward peace.

The speech was Johnson's first appearance before an international gathering since he took over after the death of John F. Kennedy Nov. 22.

Johnson was given a standing ovation as he entered the jammed chamber from which the public had been excluded for security reasons.

He quickly launched into his speech in which he pledged continued U.S. support to the United Nations and made an "unswerving commitment to the keeping and the strengthening of peace."

Johnson drew a burst of applause when he referred to the dedication of the United States to the peace of the world and the betterment of mankind.

Mrs. Johnson listened to her husband's speech from the front row of a special seating section on the side of the assembly hall.

Speaking from the rostrum where Kennedy had stood on Sept. 20 to address the same group, the President declared that he had "come here today to make it unmistakably clear that the assassin's bullet which took his life did not alter this nation's purpose."

And he outlined the U.S. objectives by saying the United States wants to:

See the cold war end, once and for all.

Prevent the dissemination of nuclear weapons to nations not now possessing them.

Press on with arms control and reduction.

Cooperate with all U.N. members "to conquer everywhere the ancient enemies of mankind — hunger, disease and ignorance."

"The United States wants sanity, security, and peace for all and above all," he said.

He offered no specific proposals.

Hostages Released By Bolivia Miners

Hostages Released By Bolivia Miners

LA PAZ, Bolivia — Four U.S. citizens held hostage for 10 days in a tin mining center by Communist-led miners returned by plane today to La Paz, Bolivia's capital. They were freed and moved to the Andean city of Oruro Monday night.

The Americans and 15 other hostages got their freedom after a noisy, tense meeting of 4,000 miners approved an agreement between the government and dissident Vice President Juan Lechin, boss of the mine workers' federation.

The Americans, three members of the U.S. Embassy staff in La Paz and a Peace Corps volunteer, were found in good health but in a highly nervous state by mine company doctors.

The other hostages—a West German, a Dutchman and 13 Bolivians — returned to their families and jobs in Catavi, where they had been held.

The Americans were brought by a jeep convoy over 30 miles of treacherous mountain road through pouring rain to Oruro, hub city for this Andean mining area. U.S. Ambassador Douglas Henderson greeted them and arranged for a flight to La Paz today, although the rain threatened to delay takeoff.

The hostages were seized Dec. 6 in retaliation for the government's arrest of two Communist mine union leaders, Irineo Pimental and Federico Escobar, on criminal charges. The Americans had gone to Catavi, 150 miles southeast of La Paz, to deliver a $15,000 U.S. aid check to help in the construction of two schools.

Gas Chamber Date Set for Thompson

Gas Chamber Date Set for Thompson

JEFFERSON CITY (AP) — The Missouri Supreme Court today set Jan. 24 as the date Douglas Wayne Thompson must die in the gas chamber.

Thompson's partner in a southeastern Missouri crime spree, Sammy Aire Tucker, was executed last July 26.

Thompson was convicted of killing Herbert Goss March 10, 1961, in a gun battle which cost the lives of two Cape Girardeau policemen. The other victim was Donald H. Crittendon, who was shot by Tucker.

Will Install Light

Speed Limit And Traffic Light Issues Are Solved

By D. KELLY SCRUTON

The Missouri State Highway Department was given approval to increase present maximum speed regulations on urban highways through Sedalia by Sedalia City Council at its meeting Monday night. Coincidentally, it was announced the City of Sedalia would obtain a traffic signal at 16th Street and Limit Avenue.

Both proposals, long involved in discussions locally, were finally resolved by council vote to accept the recommendations of the Highway Department relating to speed limits and traffic light. Concerning the latter, C. E. Klamm, District Engineer, remarked: "We have the equipment on hand and as soon as council directs the installation we'll have a crew here to put up the light."

The speed limits were discussed by members of the council, members of the Traffic Committee and Engineer Klamm and his assistant, Sam Leubert.

The proposal called for the following changes:

On Broadway through Sedalia from 30 to 35 miles per hour with the exception of the downtown area and school zones.

On Limit Avenue north from Broadway to the City Limits to 45 miles an hour instead of 40.

Speed limit south of Broadway on Limit will remain at 30 miles an hour from there to the City Limits, until further notice awaiting further highway construction changes.

Engineer Klamm brought up another item for the City Council to give thought to, the acceptance of a portion of present Highway 50 from Crescent Drive and Broadway south to 12th Street and east to where the new highway will connect with the old. Purpose of the city's acceptance in the future will be for maintenance as the State Highway Department, according to Klamm, does not desire to maintain roadways not designated as State Highways.

Change in the highway will be from New York east to Marshall where it will angle off to the southeast to meet the present highway west of the railroad underpass.

Klamm said that the State Highway Department, for the City Limits, will temporarily continue maintenance work on Missouri Avenue north from Broadway to the intersection with the Urban route at the north city limits.

It was pointed out the traffic control lights at 16th and Limit are only temporary and on trial basis before being made permanent.

Bothwell Hospital Report

After the highway business was cleared Mayor L. L. Studer read a brief report submitted by the Bothwell Hospital Board from June 1, to Nov. 30, 1963. The board pointed out the hospital for that period amounted to $557,407.02 with expenditures of $537,108.04 and showing a surplus for that period of $20,298.98.

Members of the council asked the mayor if a report had ever been received from the Board of Public Works regarding the Water Department's operation. He reported none had been received. "I will ask the board about this," Mayor Studer said.

Councilman Carl Meyers under Street and Alley, asked bids be opened on curb and guttering at the intersection of Third Street and Dundee where the new street will cross the median of the dual thoroughfare. J. W. Atkinson bid $400; Paul Graham $345. The bids were referred back to the committee to accept the lowest and best bid.

Seven bids were opened regarding furnishing of the City salt and other items to be used

Sewer Bonds Ordinance For Contract

Sewer Bonds Ordinance For Contract

Engineering Cost To Be Maximum Of $156,000

Engineering Cost To Be Maximum Of $156,000

City Council took another step forward on the recently passed $3-million sewer bond issue, when it passed an ordinance Monday night authorizing the mayor to enter into a contract with the Burns and McDonnell Engineering firm to plan and supervise construction.

The contract, which had been filed by the firm with the City Clerk for acceptance by the Council, calls for an expenditure of not more than $156,000 in fees and expenses for their work. This contract covers improvements recommended by the firm prior to the bond issue.

It is on a cost-plus times 2.2 per cent over materials and wages and not to exceed the $156,000 for the entire program, according to Councilman E. B. Smith, chairman of the finance committee.

The contract also has a provision in which the city at any time can cancel the contract with the firm and not be penalized and pay only what is due up to that time, while the engineering firm does not have that privilege of cancellation. It is a 12 page document covering all phases of the project.

Councilman Smith recommended to the Council that it take action to notify the bonding firm to prepare the bonds and market them as soon as possible. "In face of the economical trend, the sooner we sell the bonds and the Council votes to invest the funds in certificates, the City can possibly draw interest on the bonds which might come in handy in case any changes are necessary in a cost of the project," Smith remarked.

The program of Smith's is similar to that when the Urban Bonds were voted and he was given permission to invest funds until they were needed, and this proved beneficial to the City when certain costs rose before the urban plan work got fully underway.

Charlotte Brown, 23, 413 West Morgan, who was arrested early Sunday morning during a raid on the Harris Barbecue at 119 North Broadway, was released from the Pettis County jail Monday night on a $2,500 bond supplied by the Bradshaw Bonding Co., Willard Morris, agent.

She and Otis Harris, 52, proprietor of the establishment, were charged with selling liquor without a state license after sheriff's officers, Highway Patrolmen and a state Liquor Control Department raided the Harris place.

Harris and the Brown woman are scheduled to be arraigned before Magistrate Court Judge Frank Armstrong on Friday morning. Harris was released on bond Sunday.

Four men whom authorities caught gambling at the Harris Barbecue, 119 North Broadway, early Sunday morning were fined $50 each in Magistrate Court Tuesday morning, but Judge Frank Armstrong ordered the fines remitted.

The four men, Jesse (Pick) Miller, Henry Harker, Everett Byrd and Roy Thornton, all of Sedalia, pleaded guilty in court to a misdemeanor charge of throwing dice.

In remitting their fines, Judge Armstrong advised the four to stay out of the Harris establishment.

Miss Linda Lou Files, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Terry Files, LaMonte, became the bride of Mr. Edwin C. Davis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace C. Davis, Route 2, Knob Noster, in a candlelight service at half past seven o'clock Friday, Nov. 29, at LaMonte Christian Church.

The double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Roy C. Smith before an altar set with a large bouquet of yellow and white roses. A seven branch candelabra held tall white tapers which were lighted by Miss Glenda Reynolds, LaMonte. Answers Your Problems

Dear Ann Landers: Something has been troubling us girls in the office. We decided to ask you to explain the mystery. A certain woman who works with us is in her late twenties. She is highly intelligent, well-read, has a lovely face and stands about 5 feet, 10 inches—in her stocking feet.

Three months ago she began dating a homely little dried up runt who is at least six inches shorter than she is. He is a successful professional man, neat and pleasant, but they make such an odd-looking couple we can't understand how she could have accepted the first date with him. The guy looks like something that should be dangling from her charm bracelet.

When they are together she stands erect, in high heels, and seems almost proud to be seen with him. What is wrong with her? Is she blind to reality? What can she be thinking?—FLOOR SIX INQUIRY.

Dear Floor Six: She is probably thinking he is a lovely human being with a fascinating mind and an engaging personality and that he is infinitely better company than some of the gorgeous guys who are tall, handsome and boring.

Dear Ann Landers: Someone asked you recently if your teeth were your own. I know good and well they are because of the unsympathetic way you answer people who have denture problems.

It's easy for you to sit there in Chicago with your own teeth and tell a woman in Texarkana that her husband is a stubborn mule because he refuses to go to the dentist and spend another $300 on a third set of choppers.

I've gone through the whole bit and it's murder. I lost 15 pounds while a certain dentist monkeyed around trying to get my teeth to fit. Finally I got disgusted threw 'em in the ash can, went to another dentist. I told him he could make me a new set of teeth and I would pay IF they fit. He agreed, and let me tell you those teeth were absolutely perfect from the minute he put them into my mouth.

Please tell people, Ann, that this is the way to get teeth that fit. Thank you. — SMILING CLYDE.

Dear Clyde: My dental experts tell me that most new teeth need a minor adjustment here and there and that darned few dentists will guarantee a perfect fit from the very first chomp.

derful luck, however. Thank you for biting—I mean writing.

Dear Ann Landers: The man I am going with was divorced two years ago. Ward's wife was a real swinger and he sued for divorce after he walked in on her and the building superintendent. Ward was given custody of their three children with no trouble.

He does not pay her alimony and she has been supporting herself—(barely).

We plan to be married in about three months. Ward has a housekeeper who is sort of half-baked but she manages somehow to keep things going. I should tell you that I own a business and am definitely not the type who could stay at home.

Ward suggested last night that it might be a good idea to hire his ex-wife as our housekeeper. He said she would love it, and it would be very good for the kids. At first I was sure he was crazy, but after he pointed out all the advantages it didn't sound so bad. What do you think.—MAZIE.

Dear Mazie: I think he is crazy—and if you agree to this arrangement you deserve whatever happens. I can promise you it won't be anything good.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Chimpanzee Holds Up Well In Space Test

SUNNYVALE, Calif. (AP)—Eight days under simulated space conditions had only one noticeable effect on a chimpanzee named Duane—he lost less than one of his 37 pounds.

Officials at the Lockheed Missiles and Space Co. plant said Monday that Duane's heart rate, respiration and temperature were remarkably stable throughout the test.

The chimp endured the experiment inside an instrumented air-tight capsule installed in a vacuum chamber.

Originally scheduled for just five days, the test was continued for eight days and eight hours when it became apparent the animal was capable of continuing.

The poll, conducted by Louis Harris & Associates, gave Johnson a 7-point jump in popularity over the past two weeks.

posals or major policy pronouncements beyond these brief aims.

He did suggest in generalities that a modern New Deal could build a better world, that it is time for a peaceful revolution on a universal scale to improve human welfare and dignity.

"Peace is a journey of 1,000 miles and it must be taken one step at a time," he said.

He was given another standing ovation when he left the chamber.

He asserted:

"The greatest of human problems—and the greatest of our common tasks—is to keep the peace and save the future..."

"If there is one commitment more than any other that I would leave with you today, it is my unswerving commitment to the keeping and the strengthening of peace..."

"The United States wants anity, security, and peace for all, and above all."

"President Kennedy, I am sure, would regard as his best memorial the fact that in his three years as president the world became a little safer and the way ahead a little brighter. To the protection and enlargement of this new hope for peace, I pledge my country and its government."

Johnson lauded the United Nations for successes exceeding failures. Yet he recognized that vast problems remain: conflicts between great powers and between small nations, disagreements over disarmament, persistence of ancient wrongs against human rights, tag-end problems of colonialism.

But nations which created these problems by working apart can solve them by working together, the President said.

He did not emphasize specific areas of conflict and disagreement or suggest any specific solutions.

He did say what the United States wants.

He mentioned an end to the cold war, first of all.

He said his country also wants to prevent the spread of nuclear weapons to nations not now having them, to push on with arms control and reduction, to cooperate with all U.N. members in conquering hunger, disease and ignorance.

Johnson let it be known in polite, subdued language that America doesn't intend to shoulder all the load. He said it favors an international aid program that is international in practice as well as in purpose. He said that "every nation must do its share."

No injuries were received in a one - car accident on the Spring Fork Road about a mile east of U. S. Highway 65, about 6:45 o'clock Monday night. Damage estimated at about $1,000 resulted to a 1960 Chevrolet sedan.

The car was driven by Wayne William Reinert, 17, of Mora, who was headed west on the road. According to Trooper Pete Stohr of the State Highway Patrol, Reinert had just driven over a hill and was starting down grade when he applied his brakes. The car went into a skid on the slippery pavement, going off the road on the north side, struck an embankment and overturned on its top.

The top and both sides of the vehicle were damaged. The W. K. Garage wrecker from Cole Camp towed the car to Cole Camp.

Stan Kroenke, 16, of Mora, and Orlyn Heimsoth, 16, of Cole Camp, were riding with Reinert. Neither was injured.

Chimp, Master Get Ticket for Speeding

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—Robert E. Stover, 41, and a girl named Tammy were tooling down Interstate Highway 4 in his sports car.

She was steering and he was working the brakes and accelerator.

John McLeod saw them drive through Lakeland Sunday and called the highway patrol. They were speeding. The patrol radio barked, "Be on the lookout for a sports car driven by a chimpanzee."

Trooper Lamar Maxwell stopped the pair outside Tampa.

Stover, a carnival showman who trained the chimp to steer, was charged with reckless driving and having no driver's license.

"After following the chimp and watching her pass cars between 60 and 70 miles an hour, I am convinced that she is a better driver than many on the road," said Trooper Maxwell.

to cope with snow and icy conditions on city streets. The bids were from Looney-Bloss, Sedalia Ice and Cold Storage, Hermann Lumber Co., Archias Seed Store, Home Lumber Co., and Fred M. Lange. They were referred to the committee to analyze and accept the lowest and best bid.

Bids on pipe to be used for street and culvert work were opened with Looney and Bloss Lumber Co., having the low bid of $1,145; Home Lumber Co., $1,197; and P. M. Holliday, 2507 Plaza $1,259.25; and Hermann Lumber Co., $1,219.52. The bids were referred to the Committee to accept the lowest and best.

Councilman Robert Bader, under sewer and sanitation, called attention to several bills charged against his department belonging to another department for gasoline and diesel oil. They were referred to the other department.

Request For Light

Bader then requested a street light to be placed on Fourth Street between Beacon and Limit, explaining the situation was bad and the property owners needed a light in that area. This was referred to the Light and Gas Committee.

Councilman E. B. Smith, asked about the status of the one-way streets on Fifth and Seventh in the Heber U. Hunt School area whether they were just during the school hours. A clarification of the ordinance was asked to be reported upon at the next meeting.

Chief of Police Hamlin, Smith stated, had reported being short-handed recently because the department discharged one officer; also due injuries suffered by Officer Blankenship and of sickness by others. He asked permission to work officers overtime as needed. He explained the salary of the one officer the department has not replaced and Blankenship's salary would partly make up the difference, as Officer Blankenship was under Workmen's Compensation, because of his injury.

Councilman Bader asked if it wasn't true tests were given applicants recently for the purpose of filling the vacancy, and was informed by Chief Hamlin it was. Bader said he understood the Personnel Board of the Department was to present a name at last night's meeting for approval of appointment.

Temporary Overtime

In the meantime the Council voted to grant the extra pay to officers working overtime until the situation could be remedied.

Bader then called attention to the fact officers were not wearing the traffic safety vests as purchased by the Council on request of the Department. Hamlin explained the men had asked for them and he would see why they were not being worn.

"It's dangerous for those men to be directing traffic in the middle of an intersection in rain, and darkness without those vests. It is for their own safety as well as for the protection of the drivers of motor vehicles to keep from running them down," Bader remarked.

Urges Lease Plan

Councilman Smith then brought before the Council the idea of leasing a fifth police car instead of keeping the present radar car. "Upkeep on the car we own is costing more than if we lease a car from year to year," he explained.

The Council voted its agreement to sell the present radar car and enter into a lease for another car with the Bryant Motor Co.

Mayor Studer then read a request from the Rev. William E. Lusk to have two additional members for the Bi-Racial Board. The Mayor reported he was highly pleased with the committee and it was doing some fine work. The Council voted to increase the Committee by naming one white man and one Negro to the Committee.

Mayor Studer then submitted the names of Damon Hieronymus and Ralph E. Lee as the two members and they were approved.

Councilman Ote Wiley under Public Buildings and Grounds announced he had only received one bid for a new roof on the City garage and desired to wait until two more were received before any action would be taken.

Permission was voted to the Pettis County Homes Co., to place more than 1,000 feet of sewers in a portion of the Rainbow Addition, but under the supervision of the City Engineer.

The following Department bills were read and approved: General and Administrative $1,678.07; Airport $72.28; Police $696.72; Fire $9.05; Public Buildings and Grounds $705.71; Sewer and Sanitation $1,538.50; Streets and Alleys $1,510.69; Parking and Traffic $10.70; Civil Defense $38.84; Lights and Water $2,570.25. Total of $8,830.81.

A new package liquor license was issued to Richard C. Esser for 1801 South Limit.

Earnings Tax To Vote In Kansas City

KANSAS CITY (AP)—"Shall I give up to the city 50 cents of every $100 I earn?" That question faced the individual voter in Kansas City today.

For months he has been bombarded with warnings that the city is in dire need of the $6 million the earnings tax will raise; that other means of raising revenue will be necessary if the tax of one half of one percent of earnings fails to pass.

An estimated third of the people who work in Kansas City live outside its confines. They, too, would have to pay the tax, although they can not vote on its passage.

Once before, in March, 1957, the city submitted the earnings tax to a vote. At that time it was defeated 20,716 to 80,615. That levy would have been one percent.

Only one fourth of the 202,000 registered voters are expected to vote since the weather is cold and there is snow on the ground.

Also on the ballot are five bond proposals totaling 16 million dollars. Included are $4 million worth of special assessment sewer bonds to be repaid by residents benefiting; $2 million in special assessment street and avenue bonds to be repaid by owners of property abutting the streets; $6 million to construct runways, taxiways and aprons at the Mid-Continent International airport; $1.5 million in bonds to build a combined fire training school, maintenance shop and fire station and two other fire stations; $2.5 million in bonds for urban renewal projects.

Polls opened at 6 a. m. and close at 7 p. m.

Former Prosecutor Killed By Gunshot

FESTUS, Mo. (AP)—A former Jefferson County prosecuting attorney was found dead from a gunshot wound Monday in his apartment next to his law offices.

County Coroner Dr. James Rehm said William Milfelt, 55, died from a gunshot wound of the chest. Rehm said the bullet that killed Milfelt came from a rifle inside a clothes closet.

The coroner said a clothes hanger was found wrapped around the rifle's trigger. It was not determined if the death were suicide or an accident. Rehm said authorities had ruled out the possibility of murder.

Miltelt was defeated last year in a bid for reelection by Democrat Brunson Hollingsworth.

12 Phoenix Girls Working To Keep Lion In City Zoo

By ROB WOOD
Associated Press Staff Writer
PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—Leo is a derelict.
He's getting bald and his teeth are cracked.
Leo still has a little of the old fire—he growls and paces up and down in mock anger—but to be honest he's not much when it comes to lions.
Nonetheless, 12 Phoenix girls—8 to 13 years old—are determined to get Leo a chance to start life anew as a real, scary African lion.

Leo was abandoned near Phoenix last year. His owner left him cramped in a small cage without food or water.
The owner never was found. So the mangy old lion became a ward of the Phoenix Zoo.

He's spent his time far back in the holding compound because there isn't a fancy outdoor enclosure for him. All the enclosures, built with funds donated by individuals and firms, were occupied.
The zoo decided to sell Leo. He was taking up space, and he sure wasn't earning his three pounds of horsemeat a day.

The 12 little misses promptly set up a howl. They insisted they would collect the money—$16,000—to get Leo his enclosure.

Zoo officials surrendered after warning the girls of the task they faced.

Laela Bell, 12, was unperturbed.
"Who ever heard of a zoo without a lion?" she said.

And Jacque Webster, 11, said, "I'm just awfully afraid Leo feels nobody cares a thing about him."

Jean Ann Bell, 9, admitted, "I've never seen a real, live lion and it's about time I did." The girls formed a club to help Leo.

First they staged a backyard circus. Total collections—$19.35.

"It was a beginning," said Alava Bell, 13.

Next came an art show. Working from school-out until dark for days, they set up a gallery in 9-year-old Shelly Springman's back yard. Paintings, needlework and ceramics were displayed on picnic tables.

It cost 25 cents to make the tour. The art was for sale, too. One young artist tagged this note to her painting:

"For sale—50 cents. $1 if you have it."

The show netted $153.02. The girls are still at it—this time selling homemade novelties.

"And just think," said 12-year-old Tina Ayers, "we just need $15,827.63."

Webelos Den gave the Bobcat ceremony. Bobcat pins were presented by Ralph Kinshell and Frank Lamb, to the following Cub Scouts: Gary Conlee, Barry Evans, Kurt Engle, Terry Kjol, Chuck Leftwich, Cody McFarland, Gregg Moon, Seth Wagenknecht, Terry Weikal and Randy Benedict.

The meeting was closed with an O'Grady Drill, led by Claude Lambirth and the three Den Chiefs, Richard Lyles, Harry Lambirth and Bob Lambirth.

Yule Program For Parents At Sacred Heart

A Christmas program was presented by the Sacred Heart High School students for their parents Sunday, Dec. 15, in which a chorus of 70 voices, 40 girls and 30 boys, sang ten Christmas songs during which the seven tableau of nativity scenes were portrayed by 12 students in magnificent costumes.

The narrator, Richard Wagner, read the Christmas story as told in the New Testament.

In the tableau cast were: Teresa Dick as the Blessed Virgin; Michael Fischer, as St. Joseph; Kathy Freese as St. Elizabeth; Diane DeWitt, Lorraine Jarvis and Dorothy Mergen as angels; Tony Brown, John Fillicetti and Herman Hall as shepherds; David Bahner, Conrad Heer and John Walje as the Magi.

Directing the tableau was Sister M. Rosella; Sister M. Loretta was in charge of the costumes, Sister M. Heloise directed the chorus and Linda Robinson was the accompanist.

Following the program refreshments were served which consisted of more than a thousand beautifully hand-decorated Christmas cookies made on Saturday, Dec. 14, by the Sisters of Sacred Heart assisted by the students, and made colorful and attractive table decorations.

Miss Jane Haggerman, Morgan County R-2 Good Citizen, and her mother, Mrs. Aaron Haggerman, Versailles, were introduced.

Mike Ferguson, musical director, Harper Chapel Methodist Church, sang a medley of Christmas carols.

Mrs. Eugene Gamble sang "No Candle Was There." Approximately 50 persons were served refreshments in Fellowship Hall of the church.

Confessed Slayer Files Reward Claim

COLUMBIA, S. C. (AP)—A convict serving life in Georgia for one murder has filed suit to claim $1,700 reward money in a Missouri slaying he confessed to.

Charles P. (Rocky) Rothschild is claiming the reward money in the March 18, 1955, slaying of Hubert Uley, a liquor store operator at Holland, Mo. He claims an agreement with the chaplain at the South Carolina state penitentiary entitled him to the reward money in the Missouri slaying.

The Rigors of Winter...

Judging from the past week's snow covered ground and sub-zero temperatures, one would scarcely believe we are within the period of the autumnal equinox, albeit coasting to its conclusion.

Although many will concur winter is already here with a vengeance, officially, by tilt of the earth's axis, the winter solstice will begin at 8:02 Sunday morning.

This means that the so-called journey of the sun southward is ended and from then until next June it will be moving north again bringing back the warmth which so many people were cussing last summer.

If the past week is a prelude to what may be expected by arrival of real winter then Central Missourians may anticipate high fuel bills and many other inconveniences incident to protracted frigidity.

Prevalent wintry conditions draw attention to the plight of our feathered friends, the birds. They are the most highly developed animals except the Mammalia. The smarter ones fly south to ample feeding grounds. Some of their relatives, however, have no instinct for equinoxes or solstices. They stay behind in the north to shiver and starve under belief the stay-behinds will catch more worms, even if they are frosty ones.

Bird lovers are becoming distressed over conditions facing their feathered friends. They are appealing to neighbors to set out feeders for seeds, bread scraps or other food particles, preferably above snow and ice-covered ground so the cats and dogs won't gobble the relief items before the birds can get to them.

There is another aspect to relief measures, too, which require thoughtful consideration. This is a season for the well-fed, well-clothed and well-housed to give some assistance to the less fortunate families who by circumstance may not be equipped to meet the rigors of winter. First thought should be given them.

Those engaged in welfare work are already preparing to help Sedalia families in genuine need as well as provide some extra substance for them during the holiday season. Many individuals will help support this annual project.

'The Half Man'

The "half man" of American industry is the problem drinker. He costs industry two billion dollars a year and employers have decided to do something about it.

The Kemper Insurance Company is making its research findings on "cost control through loss control" available to other industries. One booklet, "What to do About the Employee with a Drinking Problem," tells of the benefits to be derived from rehabilitation and has been distributed widely to business executives. Another, "Detour—Alcoholism Ahead—for 1 out of 15 Drinkers," will be distributed during National Alcohol Information Week in December.

The U.S. Public Health Service says that alcoholism is the fourth major public health problem in this country, exceeded only by cancer, heart disease and mental illness.

There are about five million alcoholics, each of whom affects an average of four other persons—spouse, children and others.

20 Fat Cats Pay No Income Taxes

(Note to Editors — Drew Pearson's column today is written by his associate, Jack Anderson.)

By JACK ANDERSON

WASHINGTON — Twenty fat cats, whose incomes in 1959 exceeded $500,000, found enough loopholes in the tax laws that they got away without paying a penny in federal taxes.

This startling commentary on tax inequities has been drawn out of the Treasury Department by Sen. Paul Douglas, D-Ill., who is fighting a lonely battle to plug the loopholes.

One treasury official has estimated that, if all the special privileges for special interests were eliminated, the tax rate could be reduced to a flat 12 per cent for everyone. This would cut the taxes for most ordinary people at least in half.

Of the 20 who paid no taxes, 15 made more than $1,000,000, and five had incomes over $5,000,000. Their share of the tax burden had to be made up, of course, by the low income people who enjoy no loopholes.

A $100-a-week worker with two children must pay a federal income tax of about $456. Yet five men, whose income was 1,000 times higher, didn't have to pay a cent.

In an unpublished letter to Sen. Douglas, Secretary of the Treasury Dillon explained that 16 of the 20 fat cats got out of their tax obligations "because of the unlimited charitable contribution provision."

"Most of these contributions," wrote Dillon, "were in the form of property, usually in the form of stock. On the average, untaxed appreciation in value represented about 75 per cent of the total contribution."

One-way Tax Loopholes

In other words, the millionaires took tax deductions for the appraised value rather than the original cost of the property they donated to charity. One man got a charitable deduction of $21,000,000 on property

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE MONITOR: A Name Away From Home.—An editorial recently reproduced observed that it was not the Indians but white men who gave the name to Indian summer. So it is with many institutions. They do not have to be identified to those who know they were the first possessors.

The thinking perhaps is akin to that of New Englanders who in some towns thought it sufficient to post the name of a long street only at its two ends, since those who came into it at intervening intersections should know where they were anyhow.

Or that which in the Middle West gave designation to what easterners know as a "western" sandwich. West of the Mississippi it is necessary to be more precise and it is sometimes called a St. Paul sandwich, sometimes a Denver. Very likely it is called a St. Paul in Denver and a Denver in St. Paul, but it's a good sandwich nevertheless.

This creates a substantial social-economic problem.

The effectiveness of the Kemper booklets will depend not only on their distribution to industry but to how well the company executives put the information to use and to what extent the "half-man" is capable of being rehabilitated. At least it is encouraging that a specific attempt is being made to control this serious problem.

Enemies are the heritage of success. Nobody envies a failure.

No problem will go away just because its feelings are hurt at being ignored.

There's no limit to the height a man can attain by remaining on the level.

'Honeymoon' With Congress Is Over

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson's honeymoon with Congress, where he served 23 years, has come to a sickening stop. He is faced, after less than a month in office, with the same challenge President John F. Kennedy never mastered.

It's how to get this dawdling Congress, the laziest in at least a generation, to do what he asks. The House didn't give him much time to ponder his dilemma. It has just hit his foreign aid program with a meat ax.

This action, even the timing, was a brutal end to the quiet spell Congress let Johnson have after Kennedy's assassination while he tried to get used to his new job.

Johnson may soon reveal whether he's going to follow the Kennedy method of soft talk with Congress, or whether he's capable of a much tougher policy that might get results where Kennedy couldn't.

Just last week the two houses had authorized a ceiling of $3.6 billion for foreign aid, a figure Johnson was willing to accept. Congress finally reached this action after months of wrangling within itself and with Kennedy.

That figure was $1.3 billion less than Kennedy had originally asked and $900 million less than he had finally set as a bottom figure. But the ceiling always winds up less than a president's minimum figure anyway.

So watching Congress set a spending limit of $3.6 billion was endurable. But the ceiling is only just that. After the ceiling Congress still has to vote the actual money to be spent. And that, in turn, usually winds up less than the ceiling.

This week the House, acting before the Senate, was to vote on the spending money. To try to forestall too big a cut, Johnson called in the greatest antagonist of foreign aid in the House, Rep. Otto E. Passman, Louisiana Democrat.

Passman is chairman of a House subcommittee which passes on the money to be spent for foreign aid. Johnson, who had magical method of getting things done his way when he was in Congress, talked to him.

Passman listened, went back to the Capitol, and his committee promptly made a joke of the Johnson-Passman conversation.

It decided foreign aid should get only $2.8 billion, or $800 million less than the ceiling permitted, and $1.7 billion less than Kennedy's final minimum request.

Johnson responded immediately with a statement — that this kind of cut would "put our foreign policy in a strait-jacket."

Johnson still had hopes, although perhaps slim, that the full House, when it voted, would be more generous than the Passman committee's recommendation. The recommendation wasn't final but the House vote would be.

But Monday, just about the time Johnson was signing the authorizing bill with its ceiling of $3.6 billion, the House voted, upheld Passman's committee, and decided $2.8 billion was plenty.

This was a terrible jolt but even this action by the House wasn't the last word. The Senate hadn't voted yet.

And Johnson could hope that the Senate would approve spending at or near the $3.6-billion ceiling and then, in a compromise between House and Senate, the final spending figure would be higher than that of the House even though lower than that of the Senate.

But—the House hadn't been content with just cutting money from foreign aid. It added an amendment to prevent this country from giving Russia credit on the wheat it wants to buy from the United States. This was a deep wound.

Johnson fought back with another statement, saying "we cannot oppose the spread of communism and promote the growth of freedom by giving speeches." But this in its own way was just a speech. It probably won't change a single Senate vote.

Now it's up to Johnson to perform. He knows as he tries that the Congress and the country will be watching him. It's his first big test.

The Well Child

Be Sure Yuletide Toys Are Safe for Your Child

By Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D.
Newspaper Enterprise Ass'n.

Millions of children are about to hit the toy jackpot. Toys are not merely a source of amusement, they are a vital part of your child's mental and emotional growth.

Although he may get a large number of toys on Christmas day, he needs toys the year around. It is important that they be suited to his ability.

If after being shown their purpose once he can't operate them by himself, they are too complicated for his present development and should be withdrawn from circulation until he is ready for them.

Another source of Christmas frustration is getting so many toys all at once that he doesn't know what to do with them.

The wise mother will readily recognize which toys have an instant appeal and will quietly put the others away to be trotted out one at a time in the ensuing weeks.

Since small children have to taste everything they can reach, they should not have access to marbles, beads, jacks and the like. Swallowing such objects may be very painful but an even greater hazard is that they may be sucked into the windpipe.

For older children air rifles, bows and arrows, pocket knives, and chemical sets may be appropriate, but it is essential to show a child how to use them safely and to supervise their use until you are sure your child understands the hazards.

Electrical toys should bear the Underwriters' Laboratories' seal of approval and should be used only by children old enough to operate them safely. This means impressing on your child the added danger of handling any type of electrical equipment with wet hands. Cords should be inspected from time to time to make sure they have not become frayed, exposing the wires.

All toys should be stored in a safe place when not in use to prevent serious falls as well as to teach a sense of responsibility and neatness.

Ax-Grinders of Every Type Board LBJ Ranch Wagon

By PETER EDSON
Washington Correspondent
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

WASHINGTON — The way all the pressure groups are climbing aboard the Lyndon B. Johnson ranch wagon—often for conflicting reasons—is the political phenomenon of the age.

At first there were some predictions that President Johnson would have heavy opposition from the liberals who in 1960 didn't even want the tall Texan for vice president.

Just two months ago this sentiment was so strong that there was much speculation L.B.J. might be dropped as vice presidential candidate on the 1964 Democratic ticket. It took a denial from President Kennedy to stop the rumors.

After Johnson became president, almost his first endorsements came from American Federation of Labor-Congress of Industrial Organizations, Americans for Democratic Action and the 80-organization Leadership Conference on Civil Rights. That ended the liberal revolt against Johnson.

Since that time many special interest groups of all varieties have issued voluntary statements supporting Johnson. Some of these testimonials even come from opposing camps.

For instance, the Citizens Foreign Aid Committee—which is against it—says that since Johnson has pledged strict economy, he will "seize the golden opportunity" to curtail government foreign spending.

Supporters of AID, the government's Agency for International Development, however, cite a speech Johnson made just before he became president, in which he said, "The foreign aid program has been a success."

We must turn away from those who counsel that the works of peace represent failure.

U.S. Chamber of Commerce President Edwin P. Neilan wrote Johnson that the Chamber was heartened by the President's emphasis on the need for a tax cut "to stimulate job-creating investments."

But now comes James B. Carey of the AFL-CIO industrial unions with a statement that, "the recently reported 5.9 per cent unemployment rate emphasizes the need for immediate passage of consumer-oriented tax legislation."

If the new President can satisfy both management and labor on a tax bill, he will indeed have to live up to his billing as the greatest compromiser and fixer of all times.

The curious thing about Johnson's support for fast action on civil rights reform is that it has not yet met serious opposition from the South.

"There," as one political leader puts it, "they recognize that Johnson is 'a wheeler and dealer.' They'll let him make civil rights speeches to the northerners to win votes. But southerners expect Johnson to soften the blow as it will affect them."

This penchant for wanting to make the new President "our boy" characterizes many endorsements the lobbies now put out.

Thus the American Public Power Assn., and the Co-operative League of the U.S.A., supporting rural electrification and public power, claim Johnson as theirs.

So do the National Education Assn., supporting federal aid for schools and teachers' salaries, the National Council of Senior Citizens supporting medical care for the aged under Social Security, the National Farmers Union, Committee for a National Trade Policy, AFL-CIO Committee on Political Education, National Association of Home Builders supporting private housing industry and others. But there are a few exceptions.

National Right-to-Work Committee has told its members that Johnson is clearly committed to repeal of section 14(b) of the Taft-Hartley Act. This recognizes the right of the states to enact and enforce local right-to-work laws, which the committee wants retained.

And Rep. Jerry Ford, R-Mich., while endorsing Johnson's promises to defend freedom from communism from Berlin to Viet Nam, declares: "On the other hand, it should be noticed that the new President endorsed all of the federal spending policies . . . I reserve the right to oppose where conscience dictates."

These are but first straws in the winter winds to indicate that the honeymoon isn't going to last forever.

Car Floats Six Blocks In 'Flood'

EDITOR'S NOTE—What's it like to float six blocks—in the family car?

H.E. Dulude, in the following story—as told to the Associated Press and the Long Beach, (Calif.) Independent, Press - Telegram—tells how his car was swept away when a reservoir broke in the Baldwin Hills.

By H. E. Dulude

LOS ANGELES (AP)—I don't know how we did it. We floated six blocks in my car, and hit five or six other cars on the way. It's a miracle we're here.

My wife, Rosanna, and I live in an apartment below the Baldwin Hills Reservoir. My sister, Mrs. Orise Giguere, had come to visit from her apartment next door when we heard helicopters warning everyone to evacuate.

It was about 2:45 p.m. Saturday. The helicopters said the dam was breaking.

I went out and started the motor on the car and told the girls to hurry up.

Rosanna looked up the street as she came out and screamed, "The water is coming."

She jumped in the car with us and I tried to outrun the water. I didn't make it.

The next thing I knew, my new white sedan was hurled into the air by a horrible force of water.

I am an amputee and have special controls on my car. I kept trying to drive while we were bobbing up and down like a cork in that ocean. We floated straight down the street. We bounced off other cars, some floating, some sinking.

The car hit a pole at the intersection of La Brea Avenue and Rodeo Road and it deflected us between two buildings, a grocery and a restaurant.

I looked up and saw police officers on the roofs of the two buildings. The water was about 11 feet deep in through there.

Officer R. J. Holoubek of the Los Angeles Police Department jumped into the water and swam toward us, shouting, "Close the windows, close the windows." We did. The car was filling up, now. Water was up to our waists.

Other police officers jumped in and formed a human chain to keep the car from floating off.

Holoubek opened the door of the car with one hand and pulled us out with his other.

I have never seen anything like what happened today. Before I retired, my wife and I lived in Topanga Canyon and twice we had to flee from brush fires. But at least we were able to escape—but what can you do when tons of water and mud surround you?

We spent the night on a high school gymnasium floor—at an evacuation center—and then, later, learned that our home and all of our belongings are gone. But thank God—and thanks to Officer Holoubek—we are alive!

Mrs. Kennedy Gives Two Pet Dogs Away

WASHINGTON (AP)—Mrs. John F. Kennedy has given two of the family's five pet dogs to White House aides.

Pushinka, the offspring of a Soviet space dog who was presented to the late President's family by Soviet Premier Khrushchev in 1961, was given to Irvin M. Williams, the chief White House horticulturist.

And Charlie, a Welsh terrier who had been the family's main pet when they moved into the White House, was presented to Robert Foster, a Secret Service agent who had been assigned for some time to the Kennedy family.

White House officials said Mrs. Kennedy gave up the pets when she moved out of the White House Dec. 6.

Meanwhile, the former First Lady and her two children spent the weekend at her ranch-country home at Atoka, Va., which she has renamed "Wexford." Her late husband's Irish ancestors came to the United States from County Wexford. Kennedy visited Wexford last June.

This was Mrs. Kennedy's first weekend at the retreat since her husband was assassinated in Dallas Nov. 22.

Later this week Mrs. Kennedy plans to take the children—Caroline, 6, and John Jr., 3—to spend the Christmas-New Year's holiday in Palm Beach, Fla., with other members of the Kennedy family.

Ballroom dancing was a rhythmic and graceful partnership—instead of the individual contortions of two people seized simultaneously with fits.

People never went on a vacation until they had saved up the money to pay for it.

What was inside a Christmas package was more important than the wrapping.

Half the small kids in America wanted to grow up and be street car motormen. Today most of them have never seen a trolley.

When a woman washed her hair, it took her the rest of the day—and the help of a strong sun—to dry it.

Greater love had no husband than he who helped lace up his stout wife in a whalebone corset.

The only time many people stayed up after midnight was on Dec. 31—and they yawned all the next day.

Anyone who discussed religion was expected at least to have read the Bible all the way through—and be able to cite chapter and verse.

If you gave a girl more than a $2 box of candy, it was tantamount to a proposal of marriage—else why would you spend all that money on her?

It was part of growing up to be given a $5 gold piece by a favorite uncle or aunt.

When you saw a boy with a crew cut, you knew his mother must have found bugs in his hair—and had taken the easy way of getting rid of them.

Everyone was sure progress would solve all of mankind's woes.

Writer Puts Art Into Fiction Work

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD — (AP)—Each weekday morning at 9 o'clock Ray Bradbury reports to his one-room office in a Beverly Hills bank building, and at 5:30 p.m. he goes home. But he is no ordinary office worker.

From Bradbury's mind has come as imaginative and as prolific a literary output as any in America.

Bradbury has won fame as a writer of the weird and the far-out but he by no means limits himself to that. To call him merely a science fiction writer is like referring to Artur Rubinstein as a piano player. As much as anyone else, he has made science fiction an art.

He pours forth an amazing volume of high-quality work. Among his recent projects:

A screenplay of his famed novel "The Martian Chronicles" for the makers of "To Kill a Mockingbird"; a recently published novel with another on the way; a book of short stories; a book of one-act plays; a narration for the Cinerama exhibit in the United States pavilion of the New York World's Fair; a series of radio dramas.

Where does all this come from? "I prefer to work from my mind and experience," said Bradbury. "I hate research. If I had to do it, I don't think I'd write."

That his imagination never runs dry is demonstrated by his production of short stories. It should shake up those budding authors who wait for inspiration to strike.

Bradley, 5-1, beaten only by Wichita, stopped Minnesota's four-game streak, 78-75 at Peoria with Lavern Tart hitting 24 points and Joe Strawder 21. Drake romped over San Diego State 79-49 at Des Moines for its fourth straight, McCoy McLe-more's 18 points leading the way.
St. Louis, 4-3, overpowered Lamar Tech 113-63 at St. Louis with 6-foot-10 Gil Beckemeier scoring 16 points. North Texas State was beaten by Loyola at New Orleans, 66-51, despite 22 points by John Savage.
The Valley's four victories in five games made its record against outsiders 24-12 for the season. All teams are idle tonight. The Wednesday card shows fourth-ranked Cincinnati against a dangerous Colorado team at Boulder. Colorado has won four straight and owns a 28-game home court winning streak. Michigan State plays at Tulsa in the other game Wednesday.
Stallworth remained the Valley scoring leader although his average dropped from 30.8 to 28.7 against Texas. Bill Kusleika of Tulsa is second at 24.6 and Cincinnati's Ron Bonham third at 24.3.

Has Fourth Crown At Fingertips

NEW YORK (AP) — Denver Bronco end Lionel Taylor, the American Football League's three-time pass-catching champion, appears to have a fourth straight title at his talented fingertips.
Taylor, who set a league reception record of 100 in 1961, caught 10 passes in last Sunday's Broncos-Oakland Raiders aerial circus to overhaul Buffalo's Bill Miller.
The only chance Miller, who completed his regular season schedule last Saturday, has of overtaking Taylor is the remote possibility that the AFL will count figures compiled in the Buffalo-Boston playoff for the league's Eastern championship.
That decision would give the Bills' prize rookie an extra shot at Taylor, who has four more receptions and a game remaining. There is no precedent for such a ruling—the sectional playoff will be the AFL's first. The National Football League does not add playoff game statistics to regular season figures.
Miller's Buffalo teammate, Cookie Gilchrist, is in jeopardy of losing his rushing title to Oakland's Clem Daniels. Cookie finished the regular season with 979 yards, 39 more than Daniels, who has one game to play. The Bills' defending champion missed a second 1,000-yard season when his 44-yard run Saturday was nullified by a penalty.

In Press Poll

Scott Appleton Lineman of '63

By JACK KEEVER
AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—A coach's decision and a teammate, says All-America Scott Appleton, are responsible for his being named Monday in an Associated Press poll as the outstanding college football lineman of 1963.
Gordon Roberts is the teammate, and like Appleton, is a senior tackle for Texas, the nation's top-ranked team. The decision Appleton referred to was made in mid-season and it placed the rugged 239-pound Appleton at middle guard as primarily a defensive specialist.
"It's on defense that lineman gets publicity and wins honors," said Appleton. "I also feel that I help the team more on defense."
"I never was real outstanding on offense."
His replacement at offensive tackle is Roberts, called "Yankee" by his teammates because he played high school football at West Lafayette, Ind.
"Gordon's a real fine blocker—better than I am—and his play helped me to concentrate primarily on defense," Appleton said.
"I'm thrilled and very proud to win this honor," he added when told of his selection by eight votes over Illinois center Dick Butkus. Nebraska guard Bob Brown was third.
"That's great, just great," said Appleton's Coach Darrell Royal. "I don't think anybody could deserve it more. He really earned it."
It was Appleton's ability to make the big play, especially on defense, that pushed Texas to a 10-0 season and limited opponents to 6.5 points and 80.2 yards rushing per game.
Appleton received 32 votes from a panel of 105 sports writers and sportscasters.

Wrist Slap

'Strategy Foul' Case Discussed

NEW YORK (AP) — Frank Ramsey, proud co-captain of the world champion Boston Celtics, heard a football player praised for committing a "strategy foul." The Ramsey reaction: "Why is there a different standard for basketball?"
Known for years as the off-the-bench firebrand of the five-time National Basketball Association kings, Ramsey is fuming over the censure he has received from Walter Kennedy, President of the league.
The public wrist slap followed a story in a national magazine under Ramsey's name describing the art of drawing fouls.
When first baited on the subject Ramsey whipped it back like a hot pass on a fast break: "No comment. Definitely no comment."
The question seemed logical enough. Since the story broke and the censure followed, Ramsey fouled out of a game for only the second time in the season at Philadelphia Friday night. Then he was charged with five fouls playing Cincinnati in Boston Saturday night.
Celtics have been idle since then awaiting Tuesday night's doubleheader opener against Baltimore at Madison Square Garden.
After more questions, Ramsey volunteered:
"All my fouls, all that stuff in the article is strategy."
An ancient basketball technique is to foul and take a chance on giving up a point in order to get the ball and a chance to score two.
Ramsey then brought up the subject of Saturday's televised Kansas City - Boston American

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—A coach's decision and a teammate, says All-America Scott Appleton, are responsible for his being named Monday in an Associated Press poll as the outstanding college football lineman of 1963.
Gordon Roberts is the teammate, and like Appleton, is a senior tackle for Texas, the nation's top-ranked team. The decision Appleton referred to was made in mid-season and it placed the rugged 239-pound Appleton at middle guard as primarily a defensive specialist.
"It's on defense that lineman gets publicity and wins honors," said Appleton. "I also feel that I help the team more on defense."
"I never was real outstanding on offense."
His replacement at offensive tackle is Roberts, called "Yankee" by his teammates because he played high school football at West Lafayette, Ind.
"Gordon's a real fine blocker—better than I am—and his play helped me to concentrate primarily on defense," Appleton said.

Football League game. Commentator Paul Christman, a former passing great, singled out a long pass play where the only defender clearly held the intended receiver and got a pass interference penalty.
Christman called it a smart play which saved a sure touchdown on which the defender was willing to give up an automatic first down to save six points.
"Nobody seemed to think there was anything wrong with that," Ramsey said. "And that's just the same thing I'm doing."
